THE NATIONAL SAMPLE SURVEY

THIRTY THIRD ROUND : JULY 1978 - JUNE 1979

TABLES WITH NOTES ON SURVEY OF UNORGANISED MANUFACTURE :
NON-DIRECTORY ESTABLISHMENTS AND OWN ACCOUNT ENTERPRISES

SECTION ONE

INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 The National Sample Survey Organisation in its 33rd round of survey (July 1978-June 1979) undertook an enquiry on unorganised manufacturing enterprises. The unorganised manufacturing enterprise for the purpose of the 33rd round enquiry was defined as enterprise not registered under Section 2m(i) and 2m(ii) of the Indian Factories Act 1948. In other words, manufacturing enterprises using power and employing less than 10 workers and also those not using power and employing less than 20 workers constituted the unorganised sector.
- 1.2 The survey covered the whole of India excepting Sikkim, Ladakh district of Jammu & Kashmir, rural areas of Nagaland and Chandigarh; Andaman & Nicobar Island; Lakshadweep; Dadra and Nagar Haveli; a few tehsils of Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra.
- 1.3 In the last quarter of 1977 an economic census was conducted through<sup>-out</sup> India by the Central Statistical Organisation with the object of collecting some broad information about the non-agricultural enterprises. In the event of availability of the economic census data for the entire country, the Governing Council of National Sample Survey Organisation decided to devote the subsequent rounds (33rd and 34th) of the NSS in the collection of detailed information on non-agricultural enterprises which could be deemed as the follow-up surveys of the economic census. Accordingly, the thirty third round was confined to the survey on non-registered manufacturing enterprises only, whereas thirty fourth round was devoted to the remaining non-agricultural enterprises.

- 1.4 In the Economic Census, the enterprises were classified into two groups, namely (i) own-account enterprises - those enterprises which did not have any hired worker and (2) establishments - those enterprises which had at least one hired worker. Establishments were further splitted into two categories - namely (a) non-directory establishments - those establishments having total number of workers less than six (including households workers) and having annual output/turnover/receipt less than Rupees one lakh and (b) directory establishments - those establishments with six or more workers and/or having annual output/turnover/receipts Rupees one lakh or more. The NSS in its 33rd round covered the non-directory establishments and own-account enterprises in respect of manufacturing and/or repairing activities. The rest of the non-factory sector i.e. directory establishments was undertaken in a separate survey by the Central Statistical Organisation. Both these surveys taken together constituted the non-registered sector.
- 1.5 The schedule of enquiry (Schedule 2.2B) covered all the major features of the non-directory establishments and own account enterprises. Apart from the identification particulars & classificatory characteristics of the enterprises and some auxiliary information relating to the manner of purchase of raw materials from different agencies and disposal of products by specific terms of sale, information on basic characteristics of the enterprise, namely, the fixed assets, working capital and investment, outstanding loans, employment and emoluments, input and output were collected in the survey. A summary block was provided in the schedule of enquiry for recording data on important items of the enterprise by transferring the relevant information appearing in the different blocks of the schedule.
- 1.6 This report, which is based on the data transcribed in the summary block of the schedule of enquiry of the non-directory establishments and own-account enterprises, presents some selected results for rural and urban areas of all states and all-India. However, due to the unsatisfactory nature of the estimates available for Mizoram, the results of Mizoram have not been presented although the all-India estimate includes the contribution of Mizoram. Tables presented are in the form of rates and ratio estimates for selected items at 2 or 3-digit level of industry group codes. In order to identify the industries associated with handicrafts, handloom & khadi, the industry codes for NIC-1970 for manufacturing units have slightly been modified at 4-digit level. The 2, 3 and 4-digit level codes with corresponding description are given in Appendix II.

- 1.7 It may not be out of place to mention here that for the assessment of the results obtained from the main schedule 2.2B (summary block of tabulation), an alternative estimate of the number of enterprises (NDME and OAE) was derived from the listing schedule of the same round. It was observed that in rural areas the estimate of enterprises (NDME and OAE taken together) obtained from the listing schedule was higher than that of main schedule 2.2B in most of the states accounting for a difference of 4.8 lakhs at the all-India level. In the urban areas, however, the two set of estimates were quite close at the all-India level. The difference in the rural estimate was mainly due to the fact that the estimate obtained from the main schedule was based on a smaller sample size than the listing schedule as quite a substantial number of first-stage sampling units (enumeration blocks) was eliminated due to improper matching of the units available in the data and multiplier files at the final computer processing stage. ~~Hence it was decided in the tenth meeting of~~ Hence it was decided that while the number of enterprises as estimated from the listing schedule should be presented in the report, the estimates of key characteristics, viz. employment, value of fixed capital, working capital, input, output, value added etc., derived from the main schedule 2.2B adopting the probability design would be provided in the report in the form of either percentage distributions or per enterprise ratios. For working out the per enterprise ratios, the aggregate value of a

- Table 5 : Percentage distribution of estimated number of enterprises associated with handicrafts, handloom and khadi over industry group and per enterprise estimates of selected items by industry group (4 digit level)

- 1.8 It may be mentioned here that a small number of enterprises has originally appeared against a few inadmissible 3-digit level industry codes in Table (3) of Appendix I. Although for meaningful presentation of data such cases have not been shown against the relevant table, their contribution for different characteristics have been taken into account in presenting the all-India estimates.
- 1.9 All the states and union territories except Chandigarh, participated in this round. Gujarat and Kerala participated on a double matching basis, Delhi on triple matching basis, Jammu & Kashmir double matching in rural areas, Maharashtra double matching in urban areas, Goa, Daman & Diu four times in rural and three times in urban areas and other states and Union Territories on equal matching basis.

It may be mentioned here that items of information on rent paid, emoluments paid to hired workers, input, <sup>output</sup> and value added relate to reference year preceding the date of survey. For fixed assets, Working Capital and outstanding loan, the data correspond to the position as obtaining on the date of survey. The average number of persons employed (hired and household) per working day relates to the reference period of 30 days preceding the date of survey. For some enterprises which were not in operation during the reference month, the employment figure became 'nil' and such cases were shown against

- 1.10 The survey was started in July 1978 and continued upto June 1979 covering a period of one year. The results presented in this report are based on Central sample data only.

CONCEPTS AND DEFINITIONS

- 1.11 Some of the important concepts and definitions followed in this survey are given below :
- 1.12 Enterprise : An enterprise is an undertaking which is engaged in some gainful activity of production of goods and services by using the members of the household and/or hiring outside labour.
- 1.13 Household/Non-household enterprise : An enterprise may be of household type and non-household type. If the entrepreneurial activity of the household is carried out in the same premises where it resides or the activity is carried out without any fixed premises by a single household or by more than one household jointly then the enterprise is considered as household type. However, if two or more households run an enterprise jointly in the premises where they reside, the enterprise is categorised as non-household type. So also the activity of a single household or a group of households is treated as non-household type if the same is carried out in fixed premises other than those in which the household/group of households reside. The other types of enterprises run by institutions, public or private, belong to non-household type.
- 1.14 Premises : Premises are the part of the census house occupied by a unit/household. If the activity of the enterprises carried out by a unit/household extends beyond boundaries of a single house to a group of contiguous houses and in rare cases a group of houses in very close proximity, the enterprise is considered to be located within single premises. Otherwise, the enterprise is taken to be carried out in other premises.
- 1.15 Own account enterprise : An own-account enterprise for the purpose of this enquiry is an undertaking engaged in manufacturing activity or repairing services with the help of household labour only i.e. without any hired worker.

- 1.16 Establishment : An establishment for the purpose of this survey is defined as an enterprise engaged in manufacturing activity or repair services which is carried out with the assistance of at least one paid worker on a fairly regular basis.
- 1.17 Employees : It refers to total employment and includes all categories of workers, paid or unpaid, engaged in manufacturing activity of the enterprise.
- 1.18 Fixed assets : ~~Fixed~~ assets include land, building, machinery, transport and other goods, new or used, that have a normal economic life of more than one year. All such assets of the enterprise regardless of their use - whether for production, transportation or for providing dwelling or recreation facilities to labour engaged - are included under fixed assets.
- 1.19 Working Capital : This consists of such items as raw material, fuel and lubricant, stock of semi finished and finished products and cash in hand and at bank balance of amounts receivable and payable on date of survey.
- 1.20 Input : The value of raw materials, electricity, fuel, lubricants and other auxiliary materials consumed, and services purchased, maintenance and other expenses incurred by the enterprise for production process are considered as input.
- 1.21 Output : The value of products and by-products manufactured by the enterprise together with the value of industrial servicing rendered, sale of electricity produced and other receipts are taken as output.
- 1.22 Value added : Value added as reported is the difference between the total output and total input and is not net of depreciation.

SECTION TWO

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

2.0 Important findings of the survey based on the date of Central sample are discussed in this section. All estimates presented here relate to household and non-household enterprises taken together.

2.1 Estimated number of enterprises : ~~As discussed in paragraph~~ the number of

As discussed in paragraph 1.7 of Section One, / enterprises as estimated from the listing schedule has been presented in Table (1) of this section. All other figures given either in the text part or in the Appendix are based on the estimates derived from the main schedule 2.2B unless stated otherwise .
~~report in the form of rate and ratio estimates.~~ The estimate of number of enterprises (non-directory manufacturing establishments (NDME) and own-account enterprises (OAE) taken together) as presented in Table 1 for each state and all-India reveals that there were 6228227 enterprises in rural areas and 1906037 in urban areas of India. In the rural areas West Bengal had the highest percentage (14.63%) of enterprises - closely followed by Uttar Pradesh (12.01%), Andhra Pradesh (10.92%) and Bihar (10.36%). States accounting for 5 to 10 per cent of the enterprises were Orissa (5.43%), Maharashtra (6.34%), Kerala (6.70%) and Tamil Nadu (9.46%). In the urban areas Tamil Nadu topped the list (14.29%) closely followed by Uttar Pradesh (13.84%) and Maharashtra (12.30%). West Bengal came fourth in the order contributing only 9.53 of the total number of enterprises in urban India.

2.2 Percentage of own-account enterprises : In the foregoing paragraph an idea about total number of manufacture enterprises (NDME and OAE taken together) operating during July 1978 - June 1979 has been given. Of the two categories of enterprises the relatively small-sized own-account enterprises accounted for the bulk of the total enterprises as revealed from the percentage figures shown in Table (2). At the all-India level own-account enterprises accounted for 91.92 per cent in rural areas and 76.22 per cent in urban areas, the remaining 8.08 per cent and 23.78 per cent being non-directory manufacturing establishments in rural and urban areas respectively. In the rural areas, the range of variation in the percentage of own-account enterprises over the states was not large, the variation being confined to a reasonably narrow band of 88 per cent to 97 per cent except for Kerala and Delhi which accounted for about 83 per cent and 73 per cent respectively. However in the urban areas the percentage of own-account enterprises varied between 46.88 per cent in Arunachal Pradesh to 90.70 in Manipur. However in most of the states own-account enterprises accounted for 65 per cent to 85 per cent except for Meghalaya and Nagaland where the percentage figures were 52 and 54 respectively.

Per enterprise

2.3 Per enterprise estimates of key characteristics : Per enterprise estimates of some of the important characteristics of unorganised manufacturing enterprises, namely, number of persons employed (hired workers as well as household members), value of fixed assets, value of output and value added for each state and all-India for the rural and urban sectors have been worked out separately for own-account enterprises (OAE) and non-directory establishments (NDME) and these are presented in tables 3 and 4 respectively. For OAEs, per enterprise estimates of number of persons employed, value of fixed assets, value of output and value added in rural areas of India were 1.61, Rs.1209, Rs.2490 and Rs.1375 respectively, the corresponding structural ratios for urban India being 1.65, Rs.2235, Rs.4942 and Rs.2832. The structural ratios for the urban areas exhibited appreciably higher values than the rural areas except for the per enterprise employment ratio which did not reveal any marked difference. This feature was discernible in almost all the states. As far as the NDMEs are concerned as expected all the structural ratios showed higher values than the OAEs. At the all-India level, per enterprise estimates of number of persons employed, value of fixed assets, value of output and value added worked out at 2.79, Rs.7069, Rs.9499 and Rs.4679 in rural areas and 3.05, Rs.7377, Rs.16173 and Rs.8413 in urban areas respectively. For NDMEs also the structural ratios for the rural areas were lower than the urban areas except for the per enterprise employment ratio in Orissa, Tripura and Arunachal Pradesh and per enterprise value of fixed assets in Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Karnataka, Orissa, Rajasthan and Tamil Nadu which exhibited a reverse trend.

2.4 An assessment of the survey results : Having discussed the main findings of the survey, it may, now be desirable to examine the quality of the estimates obtained from the data of the NSS 33rd round. It may be mentioned here that before NSS 33rd round, data on unorganised manufacture were collected in NSS 23rd (1968-69) and 29th rounds (1974-75). In the selection of manufacturing units in the 23rd and 29th rounds, the household approach was followed. The methodology adopted in the household approach was that if any member of the household was engaged in manufacturing activities as an employer or own account worker for 30 days or more in non-seasonal enterprises and for 15 days or more in seasonal enterprises during the last 365 days preceding the date of listing, such households were considered eligible for survey. From the frame of such households, a sample of households was selected and detailed information relating to the enterprise was collected from these sample households. In contrast to this, the site approach was adopted during the NSS 33rd round, that is, a frame <sup>of</sup> manufacturing enterprises was prepared through their locations in the sample enumeration blocks (EB) of 1977 Economic Census by a house to house visit, and a sample of enterprises was directly selected from that frame. However, the definitions adopted for surveys of the earlier rounds (23rd and 29th) of the NSS were more or less similar to those of 33rd round. It is worth-mentioning that while the estimates of NSS 23rd and 29th rounds covered the whole of the unorganised or non-factory sector of the manufacturing industries, the non-factory sector in NSS 33rd round was composed of own-account enterprises (OAEs) and non-directory manufacturing establishments (NDMEs) only. The directory manufacturing establishments (DMEs) which also formed a part of the non-factory sector was covered in a separate survey conducted by the Central Statistical Organisation during almost the same period of time as that of NSS 33rd round. Thus the estimates of NSS 33rd round together with the estimates of DME can be compared with those of NSS 23rd and 29th rounds. These comparisons in respect of number of enterprises are brought out in Table (5) below :

Table(5): Number of enterprises in 23rd, 29th and 33rd rounds of the NSS

ALL-INDIA

item	sector	NSS rounds (non-factory sector)
		23rd (1968-69)	29th (1974-75)	33rd (1978-79) (OAE+NDME+DME)
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)
number of enterprises (in lakhs)	rural	65.69	64.92	63.68
	urban	20.05	23.18	21.01

2.4.1 The estimate of the number of enterprises as given in column 5 of table (5) comprises of the estimate obtained from the listing schedule of NSS 33rd round together with the estimate of DME brought out by Central Statistical Organisation in its report. It may be observed that although the number of enterprises at the all-India level (rural and urban taken together) increased to 88 lakhs in 1974-75 from about 86 lakhs in 1968-69, there was a decline of about 3 lakhs in 1978-79 over 1968-69.

2.4.2 Some structural ratios derived from the data of NSS-23rd, 29th and 33rd rounds are brought out in Table (6), below :

N.B It may be noted here that although the difference in the number of enterprises as revealed by 1980 Economic Census and NSS-33rd round was not appreciable in urban areas, Economic Census figure was less by 19 lakhs in rural areas. This large divergence was mainly due to the difference in the number of OAEs. It is worthwhile to mention that while an enterprise worked for at least 30 days for perinial and 15 days for seasonal enterprises during 365 days preceding the date of survey irrespective of whether it worked or not on the date of survey was considered for NSS survey, Economic Census 1980, included those enterprises only which were in existence at the time of Census. Whether the minor difference in the concept was responsible for such huge difference in the number of OAEs is a matter which requires further probing.

2.4.2 Some structural ratios derived from the data of NSS-23rd, 29th and 33rd rounds are brought out in Table (6) below :

Table(6): Structural ratios for non-factory manufacturing sector in NSS 23rd, 29th and 33rd rounds

5. input-output ratio	0.52	0.39	0.57	0.60	0.58	0.69

2.4.3 It is observed from table (6) that value added per worker and also value added per enterprise showed an upward trend over these years. The rising trend is obviously due to the rise in price structure over the years. Employment per enterprise also registered an increasing trend. Though input-output ratio in NSS 29th round had declined from 23rd round, it has increased in 33rd round both in rural and urban areas. Consequently valued added-output ratio had shown a declining trend in NSS 33rd round.

SECTION THREE

SAMPLE DESIGN AND ESTIMATION PROCEDURE

Sample Design

- 3.1 Introduction : The total sample of the thirty third round consisted of two parts, - (i) the main sample of enumeration blocks of the Economic Census which had been selected afresh, and (ii) the repeat sample which was a sub-sample from the 29th round sample of villages and blocks. The salient features of the sample design of the two parts are described in the following paragraphs.
- 3.2 Design for the main sample
- 3.2.1 Broad Design : A stratified two-stage design was adopted with enumeration blocks (EB's) of the 1977 Economic Census as the primary sampling units and manufacturing enterprises as the ultimate sampling units. The rural/urban areas of each district formed a rural/urban stratum.
- 3.2.2 Allocation : The total sample size for a State had been determined on the basis of total number of investigators available in that state and the norm of work-load per investigator. The norm had been taken as 250 units, non-directory manufacturing establishments (NDME) and own account enterprises (OAE) taken together. Accounting for 200 units in the main sample and taking the ratio of NDME to own account enterprises to be about 1 to 4, the number of NDME's which could be canvassed by each investigator worked out to about 40. The total sample size on this basis had been allocated to the rural and urban sectors and then to the districts in proportion to total number of NDME's. These allocations were regarded as district quotas for rural and urban sectors.
- 3.2.3 Sampling of enumeration blocks (EB's) : Enumeration blocks (EB's) were formed in both rural and urban areas during the Economic Census 1977. After the Census, Economic Census Abstracts (ECA's) were prepared showing the number of directory and non-directory establishments in different selected non-agricultural activity groups for each enumeration block. These abstracts were taken as the sampling frame for selection of EB's.

Districts were taken as strata, and in each district EB's were selected with probability proportional to number of non-directory manufacturing establishments (NDME) and with replacement. EB's not having any NDME were excluded from sampling. The number of sample EB's was not fixed. Sampling was continued till the number of NDME's in the sample reached the district quota.

3.2.4 In many states, however, the rural ECA was not ready before July 1978. In these states EB's were selected through villages during the first sub-round and rural strata of 32nd round which are either districts or parts of districts have been retained. In each stratum villages were selected with probability proportional to population and with replacement. Then from the sample villages of each stratum enumeration blocks were selected with probability proportional to NDME's and with replacement. For sub-rounds 2 to 4 however, rural EB's were selected directly from each district as mentioned in para 3.2.3.

3.2.5 The instruction for the Economic Census was to form two or more EB's in a village whenever the village population exceeded one thousand. However, this instruction could not be implemented in many cases and the whole village was taken as one EB during the Economic Census.

In such cases the whole village had been taken as one EB for the purpose of sample selection. And when such a village got selected it was divided into compact, identifiable subdivisions of nearly equal population and one of them was selected at random for survey.

3.2.6 Sub-division of urban EB's : If any urban block had more than 1600 current population it was divided into two or more sub-blocks of nearly equal population each and one of the sub-blocks was selected at random for survey.

3.2.7 Sample of enterprises : Normally all the non-directory manufacturing establishments and own-account enterprises engaged in manufacturing activity in an enumeration block or sub-block were taken up for survey. However, if the number of enterprises (including NDME's) exceeded 20 then a sample of them was selected systematically with the intervals mentioned below :

no. of enterprises	interval
(1)	(2)
1 - 20	1
21 - 40	2
41 - 60	3 and so on

- 3.3 Rural Design for repeat sample : During the 29th round each district or part of a district was taken as a rural stratum in which villages were selected with probability proportional to size (related to population) and with replacement. One-fourth of these sample villages have been selected systematically to augment the main sample of the 33rd round.
- 3.4 Urban design for repeat sample : In the 29th round urban blocks were selected with probability proportional to population size and with replacement. One-fourth of them has been selected systematically for this round.
- 3.5 North-eastern Region : This region covers the states of Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Tripura, Nagaland and two hill districts of Assam. Cluster sampling of villages was adopted in the rural areas of this region. In each rural stratum, nucleus villages were selected with equal probability without replacement and clusters of four to six villages were formed around them. In Mizoram and in Manipur central district, individual villages were selected with equal probability and without replacement. However for the urban areas of this region, urban enumeration blocks have been selected as in other States. The procedures of sub-division of enumeration blocks and sampling of enterprises were same as in other states.

Estimation Procedure

3.6 Main sample

Notations :

- s : subscript for stratum
- i : subscript for enumeration block
- J : subscript for enterprise/establishment
- K : subscript for NDME/OAE;
1 for NDME, 2 for OAE
- z : size of an EB (= number of non-directory manufacturing establishments in the EB).
- Z : total size of a stratum
- D : number of sub-blocks in an EB
- n : number of EB's surveyed
- H<sub>1</sub> : total number of NDME's in an EB
- H<sub>2</sub> : total number of OAE's in an EB
- h<sub>1</sub> : number of NDME's surveyed in an EB
- h<sub>2</sub> : number of OAE's surveyed in an EB
- r : number of strata in a region (state/district)
- y : value of a characteristic

Let  $\hat{Y}$  be the estimate of the region total of a characteristic y based on both the sub-sample and all sub-rounds. The  $\hat{Y}$  is calculated as mentioned below :

Schedule 0.0

$$\hat{Y} = \sum_{s=1}^r \frac{Z_s}{n_s} \sum_{i=1}^{n_s} \frac{D_{si}}{z_{si}} y_{si} \dots \dots \dots (1)$$

Schedule 2.2B

$$\hat{Y} = \sum_{s=1}^r \frac{Z_s}{n_s} \sum_{i=1}^{n_s} \frac{D_{si}}{z_{si}} \sum_{k=1}^2 \frac{H_{sik}}{h_{sik}} \sum_j y_{sijk} \dots \dots \dots (2)$$

The formulas are same for both rural and urban sectors.

3.7 Repeat Sample (29th Round)

Notations :

- s : subscript for stratum
- i : subscript for village/block
- j : subscript for enterprise/establishment
- D : number of sub-blocks formed in a village/block
- z : size of a village/block (as in 29th round)
- Z : total size of a stratum (as in 29th round)

The notations  $n$ ,  $H_1$ ,  $H_2$ ,  $h_1$ ,  $h_2$  and  $Y$  have same meaning as mentioned for the main sample

Then the estimate  $Y$  is given by formulas similar to (1) and (2)

Schedule 0.0

$$Y = \sum_{s=1}^r \frac{Z_s}{n_s} \sum_{i=1}^{n_s} \frac{D_{si}}{z_{si}} y_{si} \dots \dots \dots (3)$$

Schedule 2.2B

$$\hat{Y} = \sum_{s=1}^r \frac{Z_s}{n_s} \sum_{i=1}^{n_s} \frac{D_{si}}{z_{si}} \sum_{k=1}^2 \frac{H_{sik}}{h_{sik}} \sum_j y_{sijk} \dots \dots (4)$$

3.8 North-Eastern Region

Notations : These are same as given in Section 3.6 except a few which are mentioned below.

- i : subscript for villages in rural areas and for enumeration block (EB) in urban areas.
- j : subscript for enterprise/establishment for schedules 2.2B.
- N : total number of villages in a rural stratum.
- n : number of surveyed villages/EB's.

Rural Sector

Schedule 0.0

$$\hat{Y} = \sum_{s=1}^r \frac{N_s}{n_s} \sum_{i=1}^{n_s} \frac{D_{si}}{z_{si}} y_{si} \dots \dots \dots (5)$$

Schedule 2.2B :

$$\hat{Y} = \frac{r}{\sum_{s=1}^r} \frac{N_s}{n_s} \sum_{i=1}^{n_s} D_{si} \sum_{k=1}^2 \frac{H_{sik}}{h_{sik}} \sum_j y_{sikj} \dots \dots \dots (6)$$

Urban Sector

Separate estimates at the state level will be calculated from the main sample and the 29th round sample by formulas (1) to (4)

In all the cases the estimate of ratio  $R = Y/X$  has been obtained as

$$\hat{R} = \hat{Y}/\hat{X} \dots \dots \dots (7)$$

3.9 Pooling of the main sample and the repeat sample : The main sample of EB's was drawn from those EB's which contained at least on non-directory manufacturing establishment (NDME) according to the Economic Census Abstract. Thus the EB's (i.e. areas) not containing any NDME are left uncovered by the main sample. On the other hand, the 29th round sample represents the whole universe of villages and urban blocks. Hence, at first, the repeat sample has been spilt up into two components one of which corresponds to the main sample and thereafter the estimates obtained from the two samples have been pooled together to arrive at the combined estimates presented in the report.

3.10 Procedure of pooling

Rural Sector : The sample villages of the 29th round are divided into two groups viz. (1) group of villages containing at least one NDME, and (2) group of the remaining villages. The grouping is done on the basis of the listing schedule O.O.

Then , for any aggregate type parameter i.e. total of a character y at the district/region/state level, two estimates  $\hat{Y}_1$  and  $\hat{Y}_2$  are built up from the repeat sample where  $\hat{Y}_1 =$  total of y for all villages of group 1,  $\hat{Y}_2 =$  total of y for all villages of group 2.

The estimate  $\hat{Y}_1$  is obtained by taking the sample observations as zero for villages of group 2 and  $\hat{Y}_2$  is calculated by taking the sample values as zero for villages of group 1. However, the village level multipliers for the two groups are equal and same as that for the whole sample. The villages for which values are taken as zero are treated as surveyed villages and not casualty. Suppose, for example, a stratum (of the repeat sample) contains 6 sample villages among which the first four villages belong to group 1 and remaining two villages to group 2. The estimate of stratum total is given by

$$\hat{Y}_s = \frac{Z_s}{6} \sum_{i=1}^6 \frac{\hat{Y}_{si}}{Z_{si}} \dots \dots \dots (8)$$ where  $Z_{si}$  = size of  $i^{th}$  village (as in 29th round).

$Z_s$  = stratum size (29th round)

$\hat{Y}_{si}$  = estimated value for  $i^{th}$  village

Then
$$\hat{Y}_1 = \frac{Z_s}{6} \sum_{i=1}^4 \frac{\hat{Y}_{si}}{Z_{si}} \dots \dots \dots (9)$$

and
$$\hat{Y}_2 = \frac{Z_s}{6} \sum_{i=5}^6 \frac{\hat{Y}_{si}}{Z_{si}} \dots \dots \dots (10)$$

Such estimates added over strata give  $\hat{Y}_1$  and  $\hat{Y}_2$  at the district/region/state level.

For any given level, the estimate  $\hat{Y}_m$  obtained from the main sample has been pooled with corresponding  $\hat{Y}_1$  to give the combined estimate  $\hat{Y}_{1m}$

$$\hat{Y}_{1m} = \frac{n_m \hat{Y}_m + n_1 \hat{Y}_1}{n_m + n_1} \dots \dots \dots (11)$$

Where  $\hat{Y}_m$  and  $\hat{Y}_1$  are based on  $n_m$  enumeration blocks and  $n_1$  group 1 villages respectively. The final estimate of total  $\hat{Y}_T$  is simple

$$\hat{Y}_T = \hat{Y}_{1m} + \hat{Y}_2 \dots \dots \dots (12)$$

3.11 Estimates of ratios are obtained as

$$\hat{R}_T = \hat{Y}_T / \hat{X}_T \dots \dots \dots (13)$$

3.12 A similar procedure is followed for the urban sector also.
